

Flowering Vases

Flowering Vases is my newest and most exclusive limited series of work. The inspiration for this series comes from the inherent beauty found within mother nature's cycle of life. One of the most magical and special moments nature displays is when flowers bloom. After studying a multitude of flowers, two species resonated most with my vision for Flowering Vases: the daylily and trumpet vine flower. Purposeful selection of turning blanks that possess an existing natural organic form is critical to pair with nature's floral examples. Tree stumps and multi-limb crotches provide the perfect blanks with which to create Flowering Vases.
